Mayor Holmes got lost last Saturday canvassing the farmer boys for subscriptions to send a Christmas box to our soldier boys. There is something wrong when a live wire gets on the job.

Mr. Larkin is in receipt of a letter from her husband, this week, stating that he is confined in a hospital "somewhere in France," with a broken collar-bone and otherwise badly shaken up.

Life insurance.—A representative of one of the large American companies will be in town during the next few weeks and will give advice free on any question regarding insurance, different kinds of policies, options, lapses, rates, etc. Write P.O. Box 54 for interview.

Rev. W. Lewis, of Edmonton, preached at the Methodist church, on Sunday, on behalf of the college work of the church. He made an impressive appeal for better educational facilities and funds to help young men through the college in the mission field in Alberta. His sermon in the evening was eloquent and listened to with marked attention.

The supper advertised last week, by the Methodist ladies Aid, to be given on Dec. 10th, will be held on Thursday, Dec. 9th. Don't forget the date and come and get Boston Baked Beans and Pumpkin Pie such as mother used to make. Thursday, Dec. 9th, from 6 to 8 o'clock.

W. A. and V. A. Porter, of Claresholm, were in town this week. The former has been farming and got 6000 bushels of grain.—Brooks Bulletin.

The Calgary Herald says the Government's wheat commandeering deal was heroic. Some grain men think it the heroism of a gail in a china store. Wheat has gone up 1 cent since Monday all the more. We have the ethics of the question for experts to handle.

J. S. Dennis, in a speech delivered at the irrigation convention, said that the war held up the settling of the eastern irrigation block, but that when this land was filled up, it would be the most thickly settled region in Western Canada.—Brooks Bulletin.

Newfoundland Goes Dry

St. John's, Newfoundland, Nov. 25.—With the return from St. John's district received tonight, reports were made complete from the eighteen electoral districts in Newfoundland on the prohibition question submitted to the electorate of colony on November 4. St. John's registered 1009 ballots for prohibition and 437 against.

This reflects a majority of about 2:0 which had been registered against the proposed measure in the other seventeen districts, and the measure is carried by 301 votes.

School Compositions

The following are samples of some compositions turned out by pupils of our public schools:

WINTER IN THE ROCKIES

Long and cold had been the winter, and it had wrought havoc among the wild creatures of the mountains. Storm and frost had done their part in sharpening the pangs of hunger of the large gray wolf and mountain sheep.

The biting wind whistled through the leafless trees, shaking the sparkling snowflakes down on the ground. The frost had long ago covered the rivers with a sheet of ice, as if to hide the surrounding desolation from the shining waters.

The wolf and coyote, that once were so plentiful, had disappeared, as if they had been snatched away by some unseen hand. No longer did the dismal howl of the wolf or the blood-curdling howl of the coyote, in the twilight of evening.—Murdock Mackay, Grade IX.

SPRING

In the far-away lands, where winter lingers late, the little children wait anxiously for spring to come. The trees once green their green leaves and show their tiny green leaves; the green blades of grass peep shyly above the ground, and the flowers greet their friend, the Spring, with their sweet fragrance and beauty. The little streams that have been frozen all winter by stern old Jack Frost, start their former courses with swift, rushing bounds to make mill-wheels turn and the dams rise. The snow that has gathered on the mountains from immemorial storms starts to melt and run down the side of the mountains, forming the rivers of its own, but finally to join the large rivers flowing to the ocean. The farmer pats the seeds in the ground and the little blades of grain peep out and show the ground. Everything is bright and happy and full of life and vigor.—Edith Strangway, Grade VIII.

SPRING

The buds of winter at last were broken, and spring once more was ushered in with all its splendor, fragrance and beauty. The little, little, green blades of grass peeped shyly above the ground, as if uncertain of the season. The buds on the trees, finding their robes too small to hide their elation and joy, burst forth to meet by the sweet caresses of the light-winged messengers of the spring. All the little brooks and streams, long under the chains that bound them, felt being so suddenly released, bounded away as if to make up for lost time. Sometimes they were hidden in the shadows of the forest until at last they emerged into the open prairie, where some they were lost in the slow moving waters of the river.—Alfred Edlund, Grade IX.

Meeting of Skaters

A meeting of citizens interested in skating was held in the Wilton Hotel on Tuesday night. Plans were discussed for forming a joint stock company with shares at $10 each. The following gentlemen were appointed officers:

Mayor Holmes, President; Mr. McCormick, manager; Mr. L. Clark, Treasurer; Mr. J. McNeil, sec. The plans will be further developed at an early meeting. The prices of skating tickets for the season were fixed as follows: Children $2.00; adults $3.00; family, $7.00.

College Notes

There will be a debate at the College auditorium, on Friday night, Dec. 2nd, at 8:30 p.m. The debate is open and the public are cordially invited. The subject is "Resolved that mixed farming is more remunerative than exclusive grain farming." To affirmative will be taken by D. Hummer and H. Harris, which the negative will be supported by C. Tappan and J. Strangman. There will also be a number of first-class musical selections by local artists.

Mr. H. M. Scott, the lecturer on live stock, will leave for Taber on Saturday to address an Institute meeting.

A number of new students arrived on Monday, which considerably increases the large freshman class.

Mr. Clark, of Vulcan, is expected the latter part of the week. He is a violinist and this will supply the missing link of the college orchestra, and the public will hear from this organization shortly.

A Social Event

(Reported by Lemoine Cleburn)

Nat Steves had a party last Friday night at which he had Tommy Rigouso, Helen Tillsen, Lemoine Cleburn, Ann Davidson, Morley Tillsen, Kailen Holman, Nat Steves, Doris Cleburn. The company started off half past eight, and it was the one of Steves they went and played till half-past nine and then had lunch. The boys showed the girls home and then went home themselves.

The Annual Meeting of the Agricultural Society

The annual meeting of the Claresholm Agricultural Society, was held in the Parish hall, Claresholm, on Wednesday, 1st Dec.

The minutes of the last general meeting were read and approved. Mr. W. J. Stephen gave a report as to the Institute work undertaken by the society in the past year, and particularly as to the work carried forward and also as to the matter of community breeding.

Mr. J. R. Watt, Sec., submitted a statement showing the financial state of affairs and reviewing the work of the past year generally. The reports were adopted.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Hon. President—Duncan Marshall M.P.E., Minister of Agriculture.
Hon. Vice-President—Norman Holmes, Mayor.

1st Vice-President—C. F. A. Leeds.
2nd Vice-President—O. J. Berg.

It was arranged to hold an exhibition in 1916.

Oh! Papa

Quebec, Nov. 25.—Striking proofs of the remarkable fondness of French-Canadian families have just been given here. Mrs. George G. mean of Claresholm, a village just outside this city, gave birth, on the 26th of July, to her baby, a child named, of course, Michel, of 26th offspring of 16. The mother, Mrs. Michel, is the wife of John Michel, a night watchman.

To Help Returned Soldiers

The following resolution has been adopted at public meetings held in Calgary and Edmonton on Nov. 24 and 25: "That at each centre in the Province, a committee be forthwith formed to be known as 'The Returned Soldiers' Bureau, ... Branch,' to be appointed either by public meeting called for the purpose, or by the local municipal council, or organization at such centre."

Right O! This is the bright idea for every town in Alberta to work on. It is a splendid idea, and one that is fully restored. Doubtless our energetic Mayor and aldermen will take prompt action. Such a committee will soon be busy.

Ready to Send Big Army

Japan is willing to send a strong army to Europe if the need arises, the Petit Parisien says. A statement to this effect is credited to Baron Ishii, Japanese Foreign Minister, by G. Leharier, Tokyo correspondent of this newspaper.

He quotes Baron Ishii as follows: "Thus far we have not considered the possibility of sending an army to Europe, but if there is occasion, Japan will immediately send in an expedition a very strong army. Japan does not intend to risk a 'cluck'."

In regard to the supply of arms for Russia by Japan, the foreign minister is said to have remarked: "Russia does not need such, as on one-third of the men mobilized have been armed. By the end of the month, Japan will have done much toward arming completely the other two-thirds."

It was in a country where in Arkansas. A one-gallon customer drifted in and said: "Gimme a nicker's worth of asafetida." The clerk wrapped up the parcel and pushed it across the counter. "Charge it," drawled the customer. "What's your name," asked the clerk. "Homesfaken!" "Take it," said the clerk. "I wouldn't write 'asafetida' and 'Homesfaken' for five cents." —Everybody's Magazine

Wilson Third To Marry During His Tenure of Office

THE marriage of President Wilson to Mrs. Norman Galt will be the third wedding in the president's immediate family since he was inaugurated in 1913. The first was Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson, daughter of the president, to Francis B. Sayre, which occurred in 1913, and the second was the marriage of the president's daughter, Miss Margaret Wilson, to Mr. Sayre, which occurred in 1914. The following year Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson was married to William Gibbs McAdoo, secretary of the treasury. And now the president himself is to be the third bridegroom. And when the wedding is over one of the most brilliant social seasons in the history of the national capital is expected by the smart set of Washington. Already preparations are being made for a series of state receptions and dinners, which will be held in the White House. The home of the president has been the scene of only the most formal state functions since the death of the first Mrs. Wilson, and there has been little activity in the social world of the capital. Third President to Marry. President Wilson is the third president to be married during his tenure of office. The first was John Tyler, who married Miss Julia Gardner of New York in that city on June 28, 1844. President Tyler was first married in 1813, and his first wife died in Washington on Sept. 9, 1842, a little over one year after he assumed office. The other president to be married during his term was Grover Cleveland, who married Miss Frances Polhemus, daughter of his former law partner, in 1894. It is interesting at this time to note the marriages that have occurred in the White House. Following is a list: Lucy Payne Washington, widow of a nephew of George Washington and Mrs. Madison's younger sister, to Justice Todd of the supreme court, 1811. Anna Todd, niece of Mrs. Monroe, to Representative John J. Jackson of Virginia, great uncle of Stonewall Jackson, 1812. Maria Hester Monroe, youngest daughter of President Monroe, to Richard Lawrence Gouverneur of New York, the president's private secretary, 1828. Mary Helen, niece of Mrs. Adams, to John Adams, son and private secretary of John Quincy Adams, 1829. Della Lewis, daughter of William B. Lewis, one of President Jackson's personal friends, to Alphonse Joseph Yee Pague, secretary of the French legation and afterward minister from France, 1835.

Mary Elston of Tennessee, niece of Mrs. Jackson, to Luther L. Polk of Tennessee, 1835. Emily Martin to Lewis Ralston, a grandson of Jefferson, 1837. Elizabeth Tyler, daughter of President Tyler, to William Walter of Winchester, Va., 1845. Nellie Grant, daughter of President Grant, to Alphonse Marie de Broglie, an Englishman, 1848. Emily Platt, niece of President Hayes, to General Russell Hastings, 1858. Frances Polhemus, daughter of a former law partner of President Grover Cleveland, to President Cleveland, 1886. Alice Roosevelt, daughter of President Roosevelt, to Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, 1886. It is understood that Mrs. Galt does not sympathize with the woman suffrage movement. Mrs. Galt is about forty years old and comes from Virginia, the president's birth state. The president met her less than a year ago, not very long after the White House abandoned social activities. He made Mrs. Galt's acquaintance as one of the intimates of his daughter, Miss Margaret Wilson and Mrs. McAdoo. Mrs. Galt witnessed the naval review in New York in May from the presidential yacht, the Mayflower, when she was a guest of Mrs. Margaret Wilson. At that time rumors were afloat that the president had developed a strong liking for Mrs. Galt and that another White House romance was to be expected. Later Mrs. Galt went for a visit at Marlborough House, the summer home of President Wilson and for a month in more than a year it was seen given by Mrs. Wilson to the artist's colors in the neighborhood of the summer White House at Cornish, N. H. The romance which culminates here before Christmas is one of the New Hampshire tales. Mrs. Galt was one of the guests at the Cornish capital summer and took long automobile rides with the president throughout New Hampshire and Vermont. Widener of Jeweler. She is a beautiful woman of a distinct brunette type, the widow of Norman Galt, who was part owner of large jewelry stores in Washington and who died eight years ago. Mrs. Galt now owns this store, which is run for her by her two brothers. It is understood that Mrs. Galt does not sympathize with the woman suffrage movement. Missiles of Death Fly in Every Direction When Shrapnel Bursts

Copyright, A. C. P., from American Press Association.

Russian shrapnel shell bursting before German advance.

THE accompanying illustration shows a Russian shrapnel shell bursting before German advance. The scene is set outdoors, possibly on a battlefield or a training area. The explosion is large and powerful, with many small, dark, bullet-like objects flying in all directions. The scene is set outdoors, possibly on a battlefield or a training area.

Time shrapnel are very deadly against infantry in the open, but against detachments of guns provided with shields or field entrenchments with overhead cover they have very little effect. Even when the fuse is set to operate upon percussion the effect of shrapnel on field guns is not particularly good, except when hits are made on the gun barrel or on its wheels, for if the shells pass through the gun shell they do no harm for some little distance beyond and so cause little damage.

High explosive shells, on the other hand, are destructive against guns with shields. As they pass through the shields they detonate and tear large holes and generally succeed in practically destroying the gun and killing the whole of the detachment by splinters. Not hygienic, but the most profound nervous demoralization may result merely from the noise of shells produced by shell explosion, according to the London Times, which gives some of the observations of Paul Ravaut, as related by him to the Academie de Medicine de Paris.

M. Ravaut observed a case where after a shell explosion a man was carried to the ambulance station suffering from paraplegia. It was a paraplegia of the lower half of the body. On another occasion the explosion of a bomb a little over a yard away left a man paralyzed on his left side and unable to speak. In both these cases all feeling had been destroyed in the paralyzed parts, and there was no sensory or external wound. The second case got well in twelve days.

In another instance an explosion made one victim almost comatose. Headaches and deafness in the left ear were observed.

The explosion of a mine near a trench sent another man staggering for help and falling in unconscious. He recovered in ten days.

Such cases, thinks M. Ravaut, are due to the swift change in atmospheric pressure caused by the explosion. This causes hemorrhages in the nervous system. They are more common on the right side than on the left.

Many persons in Washington marveled at the way in which the president had managed to keep his attention toward Mrs. Galt from the public. This was all the more surprising when it became known that he actually had called at St. Thomas' church to a recent Sunday evening for her. "Fight or Pay"

Subscribe to the Patriotic Fund and help the work in every way you can.

Increased need requires a new appeal for funds. Conditions did their duty last year. They will have to do this year. If you cannot get up to the front, you can help to support the families of those who have gone. $1,000,000 will be disbursed in March. Of this amount, $200,000 will be distributed among families in need. All other disbursements will be distributed among families in need. If the people of Ontario contribute their share to the Patriotic Fund, the families of those who have gone will be able to support the families of those who have gone. All other disbursements will be distributed among families in need.

And don't forget the Red Cross and Belgian Relief Funds
